

YES Newsletter—November 2020

Please join us for these exciting upcoming events

Resident and Fellow Roundtables Sponsored by the ASCRS YES Committee

This monthly interactive learning experience will be led by two different ASCRS Young Eye Surgeon Committee members and will include case studies and encourage a lively discussion with all attendees engaging through video.

Next up:

Thursday, December 3 at 7:00 CST

Registration is very limited and will open on Thursday, November 19th

Dr. Albert Cheung and Dr. Manjool Shah

"Cataract Surgery in the Setting of Cornea and Glaucoma Pathology"

ASOA and YES Joint Webinar

Navigating the Current Job Market

This session will provide attendees with tips on how to navigate their careers in the current environment. This will include pearls on negotiating contracts, helping to develop practice management strategies and get pointers from experts who have seen the challenges first-hand.

Co-Moderators: Deborah Davis, COE and Zach Zavodni, MD

Faculty: Thomas Brown, JD, COE; Sharon Brown, COT, COE; and Hayley Boling, MBA, COE; Mark Hansen, MD; Michael Patterson, DO; and Julie Schallhorn, MD

Available on demand for all 2020 Virtual Meeting attendees now.

<https://ascrs.org/meetings/post-meeting-resources/2020-ascrs-virtual-annual-meeting/navigating-the-current-job-market>

ASCRS Grand Rounds

We have partnered with major academic institutions to present a monthly series of virtual grand rounds, each approved for 1.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™. View during a pre-scheduled time to engage live with the speakers or view on demand at your convenience.

Up next Cullen Eye Institute at Baylor School of Medicine presents the ASCRS Grand Rounds on Wednesday, December 16 at 8pm EST. The Grand Rounds will feature two challenging cases, engaging panel discussions, and clinical pearls discussions.

<https://ascrs.org/clinical-education/grand-rounds>

ASCRS Journal Club

ASCRS Journal Club is a virtual, complimentary CME offering exclusive to ASCRS membership that brings the experience of a lively discussion to your home or office.

Join co-moderators Nick Mamalis, MD and Leela Raju, MD with panelists Natalie Afshari, MD, David Chang, MD, and Richard Tipperman, MD, and discussants Samuel Masket, MD, and Alexa Thibodeau, MD on Tuesday, December 8 for a discussion of two manuscripts from JCRS. Faculty will be available live via the commenting module to answer your questions and participate in the discussion.

<https://ascrs.org/clinical-education/journal-club>

Remember you can always find additional information and resources on our website.

<https://ascrs.org/membership/young-eye-surgeons>